

Best Promotional Scheduling software

Demo Wizard is an in-store demo scheduling and management software. We exist to help brands and retailers take the headache out of scheduling and managing in-store product demos.

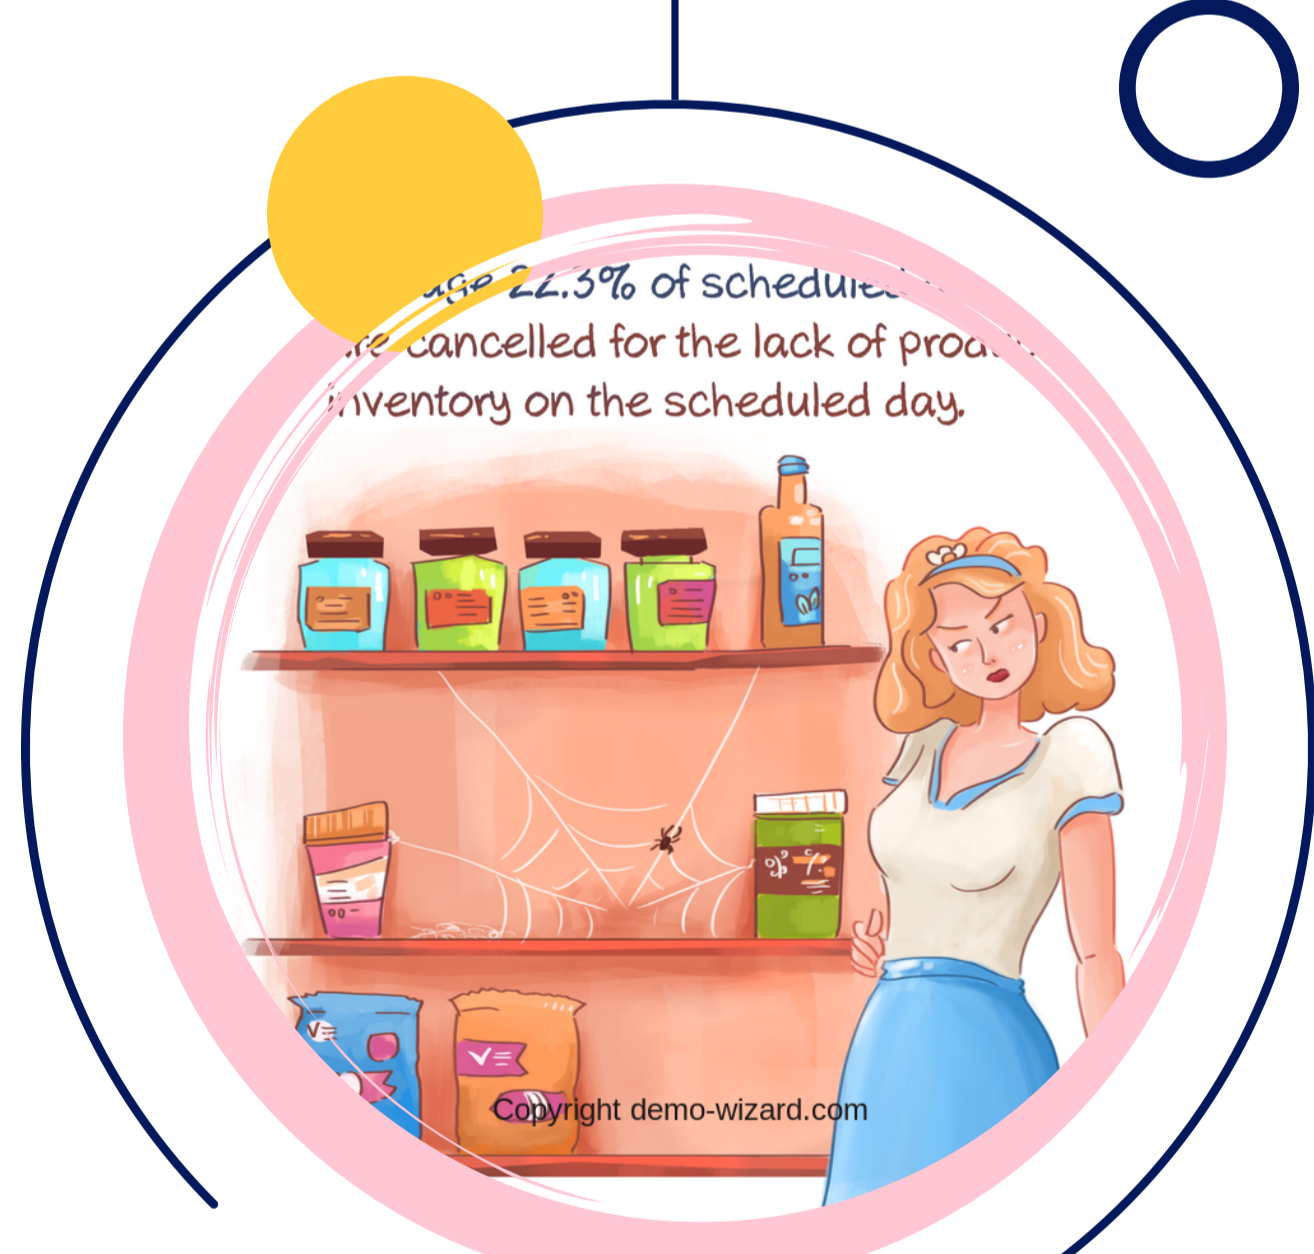

We see in-store product demos as a critical part of retail marketing strategy, that consistently generates consumer demand, helps to raise revenue and improves in-store customer experience.

Brick and Mortar stores face competitive challenges to retain and grow customer traffic and to increase sales in retail locations.

Organized, consistent and scheduled stream of in store sampling events create inviting customer experience that brings shoppers to the stores more often and keeps them there longer.

Product Vendors focus on getting their products on the retail shelves...next to the dozens of similar products from their competitors.

You know that your product is better, but the consumers may not notice or remember your great packaging or clever printed messages. Nothing sells more effectively than experience.
